Ben's Thoughts

NAPPING (6.05 Lingfield) looks worth a crack at decent odds now she's back down the weights and with prime Conditions to attack - Hcps | OR 62 or less | 5f-6f | May-Nov = 111813513413 (6/12, 2p - all 6 career wins). The 8yo hasn't had the rub of the green on her two runs so far this season (trouble in-running both starts) but they've been solid efforts and the return of cheekpieces here looks interesting (last win came when cheekpieces were reapplied after a few runs without them). The mare is 2 from 2 in handicaps on the Lingfield Turf track and it's worth noting Amy Murphy's record in turf 6f handicaps when she employs a claimer...8/25 | 32% S/R | +£46.74 BFLSP – W&P 12/25 | 48% S/R.

EURO IMPLOSION (8.20 Hamilton) has been in excellent form this season and he's still got a bit of wiggle room left in him off OR 68. He ran well last weekend at Musselburgh although his stamina maybe just gave way over the 1m6f trip and this return to 1m3f looks a smart move from connections. He's got Prime Conditions to attack here - C4 or less Hcps | May-Aug | OR 72 or less = 6/14, 4p - all 6 career wins – at a track he loves, especially over the 1m3f-1m5f trips (1193) and he should get to lead this field along off the front without any competition for the lead.

TEMPER TRAP (8.50 Hamilton) showed a return to form at Nottingham last time out and connections have found an even weaker C6 for him here, back at the scene of his last victory. Both his career wins have come under these conditions - C6 | OR 54 or less | July-Aug | RH tracks – 11 (2/2 – both career wins) – and David Allan back in the saddle is a positive as he's ridden the horse to both his previous victories (all other jocks are 0/8 on the 4yo).
