Ben's thoughts...

A couple of 'old boys' being flagged up today... naturally they come with their own health warnings but in fairness there is plenty juice in their prices if you fancy having a crack at them, the types you need to accept could bomb out and fall out the back of the TV if they are not on a going day! But should they hook it all up the rewards are plentiful...

Of the trio I'd say the following is of most interest...

ANOTHER BATT (4.40 Thirsk) is 2 from 2 at track and won this race last year on third start of season (this is his 4th start of season so good chance they had this race as a target and have been getting him cherry ripe for the repeat bid). These are his conditions... Turf | 7.5f or less | 13 or less runners | May-Oct | OR 100 or less = 15161123112 (6/11, 3p - all 6 career wins)...he's on a winnable mark and he should be bang ready for this.

Thoughts on the others...

WENTWORTH FALLS (8.40 Doncaster) dips into a race worth 5k or less and he has strong form in such races over 5f-7f and when running on a straight track or round a RH bend... 121113 (4/6, 2p).

MR ORANGE (5.11 Thirsk) is a tough old warrior with 68 starts under his belt and although he's 2 from 4 at Thirsk his last 5 wins have come at Pontefract so I do wonder if that's where connections save him for these days. He does, however, have PC to attack here and he's likely to be available at a lofty price...
