Ben's thoughts...

Never easy to say what one or two I may fancy 'more' than the others from the Stats Sheets, and if they are on the Stats Sheet then I clearly think they have a chance/conditions to suit and it's extremely likely I'll be backing all of them in some capacity...

If I do have any further thoughts to add, out with the already highlighted stats, then I will add in this section, but ultimately if a horse has made the Stats Sheet, the chances are that I will personally be playing it...

Like all analysis I produce for NTF members, however, the horses in the Stats Sheet are there to be played how and if you see fit... everyone plays things in different ways and ultimately you need to play the way that best suits your own mentality...
